ATTENDANCE – As you will see from the 90% figure above attendance appears to be something of an issue over not only last week but during the course of this term so far. We are particularly concerned about the number of holidays and the number one off absences which are not being fully/realistically explained. The minimum attendance expected for any child is 95% and the ideal attendance is above this. To achieve 95% for this term, so far, your child can only have been absent for 2 days.

Missed days learning is very difficult to recover and therefore your child will automatically be behind. Whilst we don't want children in school who are ill, we do expect a degree of resilience and unless associated with fever, colds for example, are not a reason to be off school. Holiday absence is a real problem and parents need to consider very seriously before deciding to take unauthorised holidays in term time. Over the course of the year with no other absence 5 days holiday gives an acceptable attendance lever, however when you decide to take a holiday you can't guarantee that your child is going to be well for the rest of the year. Attendance is a focus for authorities beyond school and attendance below 90% may well become the focus for the attention of the Education Welfare Officer.

All families will receive an attendance letter at the end of this term so you are able to track your child's attendance record.

FRIDAY 16 NOVEMBER CHILDREN IN NEED – We went Spotty for CHILDREN IN NEED. Thank you to everyone for their support with the spots and the bring and buy.
